

Do Not Sell My Personal Information

Last Updated November 10, 2021

Workforce Research Group does not sell (as “sell” is traditionally defined) your personal information. That is, we don’t provide your name, phone number, address, email address or other personally identifiable information to third parties in exchange for money. As such, there is no need to request a “Do Not Sell My Personal Information” right under California Law.

Best Places to Work in Kentucky Program

Under California law, sharing information for marketing purposes may be considered a “sale” of “personal information.” If you’ve registered for the Best Places to Work in Kentucky program within the past 12 months, under California law personal information about you may have been “sold” to our program partner. California residents have the right to opt out of the “sale” of personal information, and we’ve made it easy for anyone to request such a right.

As such, A "Do Not Sell My Personal Information" request enables consumers to opt out of the sale of their personal data by contacting Workforce Research Group By email: Privacy@WorkforceRG.com.
